

From Poyote out in West Texas a reader sends in a clipping from this column to which he attached two streamers of crepe with the notation that "the election was over in July." Crepe is alright but this column is not dead. It will carry on for the Democratic party though facing the prospect of negative political service in the country. The party's popular vote in the Tuesday election indicates that more than fifteen million people in this country endorsed its platform and its candidates. Governor Smith was defeated. His message to the American people on Tuesday night is proof enough that it was good to follow his leadership.

Now that the "election is over" we are to have a respite from the exacting influences of politics. There are some wounds to heal in the party. No political campaign is waged without its bitterness and prejudices. We have had our share. The vigor of this column has brought down upon the head of its editor the wrath of many. Those approving its policy accept its service without comment. Those who disagree say so in many ways. The way of positive character is the path of thorns.

Generally the production of cotton is short of the figure last year and we are feeling the effects of the operation of the law of supply and demand, the only factor in the control of prices of any commodity. The staple is bringing a good price. Prosperity in Milam county is indicated by the production of a crop in excess of the 60,000 bales already ginned. The production of last year will be exceeded.

We have with us beginning Sunday Will Hogg and his party of evangelistic workers for a campaign here of indefinite duration. This is one of the few remaining organizations for religious campaigns such as flourished in the late eighties and early nineties. The last experience Cameron had was the Ham and Ramsey revival, said to have been the most sweeping religious event in the history of the city. The Hogg revival is enlisting the co-operation of all the churches. A mammoth tent, well heated and lighted, is to serve the churches for a meeting place. While the campaign was opened at the Baptist church on Wednesday night by Dr. Williams, organization head, the evangelist Dr. Hogg preaches the first sermon in the big tent Sunday night. There has been a decline in this type of preaching, due to the rapid spread of the church. In old days the evangelist visited remote sections of the country having no churches. Today they are used to revive communicants who have neglected their religious duties. Much interest is being shown in the revival here.

Now that the street topping program is out of the way the city should turn its attention to a better lighting system for Cameron. Nothing is quite so beneficial to a city in the way of civic pride as well lighted streets. I am informed that the lights now being used on the streets are metered and are turned on after dark and off before good day light in the morning. Entirely unsatisfactory lighting system. When the streets are made better good lighting must follow. The commercial club should turn attention to this important need.

Committees are passing among the business men asking for aid to the Boy Scout movement. It is a fine thing to do, quite necessary for the best interest of the boys and should be liberally supported by every business man in Cameron. Look at the average Boy Scout and you will see a fine, clean youth, better equipped and better educated. It is the making of many boys whose environment might lead them to other paths. If Christianity means anything at all it means doing this good turn for the boys. I have made my subscription and you should make yours.

Public health officials here are to be congratulated on the immediate and effective method of meeting disease infections. While typhoid has been prevalent this year, the situation has been in hand at all times. The public water supply, now adequately protected offers no further trouble and in itself the greatest source of typhoid infection, the possibilities for future trouble are minimized.

There is much to be said in favor of an all time paid secretary for the commercial club. Lack of interest has been a source of worry to officials. Annual meeting nights find all present and voting. After that a quorum is hard to realize. It might be well to inaugurate a program of such progressive outline as to catch the imagination of the members and inspire attendance. Many care nothing for a concern that is lacking in vision and program. Everyone admires constructive action. Let us do some big things for Cameron.

Dudley Lee Braun, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Braun and a student at Allen Academy was in Cameron Sunday.

CITY WIDE REVIVAL OPENS HERE SUNDAY

EVANGELIST HOGG AND PARTY
OF WORKERS ARE HERE
FOR CAMPAIGN

Dr. Will Hogg and his party of workers will begin a revival campaign in Cameron on Sunday night, November 18. Rev. S. J. T. Williams, campaign director for the party arrived in Cameron Wednesday and spoke in a united prayer meeting at the Baptist church Wednesday night.

The meetings are to be held under a huge tent on the Southwest corner of the City Park. Mr. Hogg and Mr. Williams were both pastors in El Paso prior to entering the Evangelistic field four years ago.

Mr. Hogg is Methodist and Mr. Williams is Baptist. Earl S. Rodgers is director of music and will have his first meeting with his choir under the big tent Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Mr. Hogg is a relative of the late Governor Hogg of this State and is a cousin of Will C. Hogg of Houston. ## BIG CUTS MADE IN PRICES OF DODGE

STANDARD AND VICTORY SIX
MODELS OFFERED TO PUBLIC
AT GREAT SAVING

Price reductions ranging up to $250 a car have been announced on all Standard and Victory Six models by The Sapp Motor Company, local Dodge Brothers Dealer. The new prices are effective here immediately.

"All cars except the Senior Line are included at these reduced prices," said Pope Sapp. "Cars on hand are the latest types with varied attractive color combinations and body styles to suit every taste. Sedans, two and four passenger coupes, cabriolets, touring cars and roadsters are offered. Sport De Luxe types are available in addition to standard models."

"The announcement of cars at reduced prices is the result of aggressive work at the factory aiming at a single purpose—volume production and volume sales. Better manufacturing facilities, closer supervision and rearrangement of production operations have been reflected in improved quality and lower cost of these motor cars. These savings are now being passed on for the benefit of the buying public."

"At a time when the automotive dollar never represented a greater value, the latest motor creations of Dodge Brothers at these reduced prices present an unusual opportunity to automobile buyers. The advantage of owning a fast, new stylish and dependable six-cylinder car, outstanding in performance and unusually roomy is brought within the price reach of millions. At the new low prices, the cars represent one of the most significant announcements of the year for the industry."

YOEMEN DEFEAT ROCKDALE 44 TO 6

OFF FEET IN ANNUAL GAME MONDAY

The Yoemen invaded Rockdale Monday, November 12 and tamed the Tigers by the score of 44 to 6. It was a better game than the score indicates for both eleven were in there fighting from whistle to whistle.

The Yoemen started off like a whirlwind by scoring in the first few minutes of play after Schag had snatched a long pass from "Pepper" Young. The Tigers held the Yoemen to a 13-0 score in the first half but the Yoemen went wild in the last half.

After the Yoemen scored their first touchdown the Tigers came back and made four first downs in succession but that fighting Yoe High forward wall was impregnable when the pigskin was advanced into their territory.

One of the outstanding plays of the game was made by Jesse Wilkerson, fast Yoe High back, who intercepted a pass on the fifty yard line, fumbled momentarily, but recovered and outdistanced the entire Tiger eleven including the supposedly fast Johnny Richards, to score a touchdown.

"Pro" Deer was probably the outstanding performer in the backfield. He was always good for a nice gain on the famous Yoe High spin play and played a swell game on the defense as well.

The famous passing combination of "Pepper" Young to "Boots" Smith was working with remarkable precision and they made that famous Michigan combination of Friedman to Oosterbaan look like pikers when it came to completing passes.

"Jonah" Stack, powerful Yoe High tackle was the stellar performer in the line. "Jonah" was in there continually throwing the Tiger backs for losses and he always got his man on the defense.

In the fourth quarter a Tiger pass was completed which placed the ball on the Yoe High 12 yard stripe from there it was plunged over the goal line. This was the first time a Tiger back has crossed the Yoe High goal in six years.

Those fighting Yoemen have amassed a total of 210 points to their opponents 48 in seven games and we are going down to Bryan with them Friday and help them add to their total.

GRAY TIMBER WOLF KILLING CATTLE BROUGHT DOWN IN CHASE BY LOCAL HUNTERS NEAR SALEM ON SUNDAY

LEGION MEN BANQUETED BY LOCAL LEGION POST

HEAR ADDRESSES AND SPEND
DAY OF PLEASURE TALK-
ING OVER "OLD TIMES"

The largest crowd ever attending the annual Armistice Day luncheon in Cameron was in Cameron Monday for the event.

Luncheon was served by the local post with the assistance of Cameron women, Mrs. B. J. Baskin being in charge of the serving.

At 12 o'clock the men assembled at the banquet hall were commanded into company formation then to double file for a march around the business section then back to the hall where they filled in accompanied by a detachment of Boy Scouts under Joe Matula.

J. B. White as master of ceremonies called the meeting to order and invocation was said by W. G. Gillis.

After the lunch the ex-service men and guests, including Confederate veterans and Spanish-American War veterans heard Judge Gillis deliver the annual address. This address had for subject "Americanism," and Judge Gillis was in his usual good style for speaking. He urged the men who now sit among the reminiscences of the past to go forward and fight the battles of peace that Americanism shall endure. He lauded the brave spirits who dared for America and expressed satisfaction at the work of the Legion.

J. D. Baskin, veteran of the war was next introduced and delivered a splendid address touching upon the past and urged the men to continue their devotion to the principles of Americanism.

R. P. Jeter, veteran of the Spanish American War, gave an inspiring talk for the men. We went over with eloquence and with humor the period of his service under the flag. He was warm in his tribute to the ideals of America. Although Mr. Jeter did not know he was to talk gave much interest to the program by his extemporaneous remarks. Mr. Jeter has been asked to deliver the oration at the next annual banquet of ex-service men.

At the conclusion of luncheon a large number of men paid their dues in the post some enlisting for membership for the first time.

MAJESTIC RADIO SET ON GRAF ZEPPELIN

C. N. GREEN & BROS. ADVISED
THAT GERMAN CREW PLEASED WITH THE MODEL

C. N. Green of the Green Bros. store has been advised that a console model Majestic radio set was aboard the Graf Zeppelin that flew the Atlantic and returned.

For the first time in history a console radio set has crossed the Atlantic ocean in an airship. The Majestic Electric radio was the set chosen to receive this high honor by the Commander and crew of the Graf Zeppelin the monster dirigible which recently came to America from Germany and which has now arrived safely at its home port after a tortuous voyage back across the Atlantic.

The interesting thing about the Majestic being selected for the voyage back aboard the Graf Zeppelin is that this nationally known radio set was chosen exclusively because of merit and not through any attempts to obtain publicity by the manufacturers of Majestic, Grigsby Grunow Company of Chicago.

Shortly after the Graf Zeppelin arrived at Lakehurst, New Jersey, a letter was received by Grigsby Grunow Company from the Chief Engineer of the Graf Zeppelin reading as follows:

"Gentlemen:
"I am the chief engineer of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin and came to America in her very recently and thru relatives in Philadelphia I heard your Majestic Radio apparatus.

"I like the performance of the built in loud speaker very well and since we do not have anything like that in Germany I beg to ask you if it would not be possible to take one of your sets back with me in the Zeppelin to Germany and under what conditions. "I would show the set with great joy over there and it would help me remember the enthusiastic reception which all of us found in America.

Very sincerely,

Karl Buerle, chief engineer
Naturally the Company appreciated the high honor conferred upon the Majestic and immediately supplied a Majestic set which, for the first time offered transatlantic passengers on an air liner the opportunity of being entertained by radio reception.

MRS. L. E. PERDUE BURIED IN CAMERON WEDNESDAY

DEATH COMES TO FORMER MISS
PICKIE HEFLEY AT HOME IN HOUSTON

Mrs. L. E. Perdue, 42, who died at the family residence in Houston at 3:30 a. m. November 13, 1928 was buried in Cameron Wednesday afternoon, November 14, 1928.

Death came to Mrs. Perdue, formerly Miss Pickie Hefley, of Cameron, after about five weeks of illness. Her condition was believed improved and her death came as a great shock to her family and to friends who have known her all her life.

A message announcing the death came to H. M. Hefley, brother at Cameron early Tuesday morning. Mr. Hefley left immediately for Houston in company with A. K. Gurecky, returning Tuesday night. The body was brought to Cameron, arriving on the northbound Santa Fe train at 2:30 and from the station was conveyed to the home of Mr. Hefley where funeral services were held.

The aged mother, Mrs. L. J. Hefley and her children were present in the home to give their last full measure of devotion to one they loved and who had in her life been an inspiration to them and to their family life. Rev. P. T. Ramsey, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the services paying a beautiful tribute to the deceased and to the family, one of prominence in the life of Cameron for more than a half century.

The husband, L. E. Perdue and a son, Laurel Perdue Jr., were here for the funeral, having accompanied the body from their home in Houston. Mr. Perdue has been an invalid for a number of years, the son, having taken his father's place in responsibility for the care of his mother and father, and to him the sympathy of all is extended.

From the residence of H. M. Hefley the cortege directed by Green Brothers, one of the largest ever seen here, wended its way to Oak Hill Cemetery where burial was made under a somber November sky, a bank of flowers large and beautiful, speaking of springtime and eternal life in contrast to the falling leaves, gave testimony of the esteem in which Mrs. Perdue was held.

Mrs. Perdue affectionately known as Pickie Hefley was born in Cameron in October 1886 and at the time of her death was 42 years of age. With the family she moved to McAllister Oklahoma where her father, the late L. J. Hefley engaged in the mercantile business. She was married in McAllister, Oklahoma March 24, 1908 to Mr. L. E. Perdue. She had lived in Houston for the past two years.

She is survived as follows: Husband, L. E. Perdue and son, Laurel Jr., of Houston; mother, Mrs. L. J. Hefley of Greenville, one sister, Mrs. J. V. Washinka of Greenville who with her husband and daughter, Francis attended the funeral; four brothers H. M. Hefley, vice president of the First National Bank of Cameron; Jack Hefley of Chicago; Chas. Hefley of McAllister, Oklahoma and Hugh Hefley of St. Louis.

doesn't always make for success. It is brains, not brawn that counts. For every ten dollars you earn in any position, nine comes to you for "knowing how."

The best use of your money is to use it thriftily and invest it profitably. To spend it all is to waste most of it. To save a portion is to put it all to good use.

Work hard—but save as much as you can. That's the philosophy of thrift. Put every dollar you can spare to work, and it will return you a handsome dividend.

THE COTTON PALACE GETS A WILD EXHIBIT

Fish and game of Texas, with specimens of wild life and predatory animals found in this state, will be exhibited at the Texas Cotton Palace exposition in Waco Nov. 9 to 18. The fish, game and oyster commission of Texas, headed by Will Tucker of Austin, and the Texas Outdoor League with J. Frank Elder its secretary, are co-operating to put on this exhibit.

Some of the specimens will be alive, and construction of pens and pools to hold them is going on at the Cotton Palace grounds now. Others will be stuffed, and there will be placards on many telling interesting incidents of their capture, where it took place and by whom. Habits and haunts of wild life will be described.

Ropewalkers and Diving Horses Will Give Non-Charge Performance at Cotton Palace.

Free "thriller" acts will be given every hour on the grounds of the Texas Cotton Palace this year when the exposition opens its gates from Nov. 9 to 18 at Waco. Officials of the fair have not definitely announced what these features will be, except that a diving horse, a monkey and baboon circus, a troupe of acrobats who stand on their heads, eat and sway on a small rope far overhead will probably be brought to the exposition.

An "Uncle Hiram and Aunt Lucindy" couple are being sought to travel over the grounds in the guise of two glib, amusing, unsophisticated old folks enjoying a fair for the first time. Since the death of Mrs. Bert Davis, however, who with her husband made the most popular couple of this sort that the Palace has ever had, it has been difficult to find two more people as amusing and well liked.

The huge orthophonic Victrola which plays on the lawn in front of the main building every year is being installed again for the 1928 fair, and newest records played on it will be varied with favorite old time selections. It has entertained many at their lunch hours and while they were waiting for friends on benches of the lawn.

WHY DON'T YOU ENTER BUSINESS

There is a wonderful opportunity in business for the unemployed teacher or the college student who by force of circumstances had to drop out of college. Because of your unusual literary qualifications business concerns prefer you. You make better trained office employees. No matter what your circumstances are, you should have a business training; no matter what your circumstances are you CAN have a business training.

We have a novel yet simple plan that is helping hundreds of young people through our school—a plan that enables them to pay the greater portion of their expenses after they are placed on a business man's payroll.

No need to wait till after Christmas to begin because any one who desires may visit home at least ten days during the Christmas holidays. So, if you enter now, you will be just two months ahead of the fellow who waits until after Christmas to start.

POULTRY SHOW IS ATTRACTING INTEREST

Cotton Palace Records to Be Exceeded November 9 to 18

This year's poultry show at the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition in Waco, November 9 to 18, inclusive, is attracting more interest than any held in previous years, says John K. Strecker, who is in charge. Considering the fact that last year's show was one of the most notable held in the Southwest anticipations for a first class exhibit this year are justified.

Entries of the American Bantam Association, the Southwest Bantam Association, the Texas Silver Wyandotte Club, and two which were in the show last year: the Texas Branch of the American Cornish Club and the Texas White Plymouth Rock Club, are announced.

On account of the dates of the Cotton Palace, Nov. 9-18 at the time when poultry is in the best show condition, and the fact that the exhibit will last only 10 instead of 16 days, entries will be greatly increased, Strecker believes. Also, the Cotton Palace poultry show will follow the Dallas and the Shreveport fairs without overlapping their dates as formerly.

Special interest is being shown by local fanciers and breeders of fancy poultry throughout Central Texas and the state. ### Voted In Texas

Edgar B. Davis the Luling oil multimillionaire, came to Texas to vote in the recent election. Since Mr. Davis became enriched by Texas oil, the State in which he formerly lived is unwilling to have him designate Texas as his home and is suing him for an income tax on his oil revenues which he claims should not be paid there since he is not now a citizen of that State. Mr. Davis would have it known that since his discovery of oil in Texas he is a Texas citizen and why shouldn't he be?

CHRISTY BROS. HERE MONDAY NOV 26TH

PARADE TO BE STAGED—HIGHLY TRAINED ANIMALS AND GALAXY OF LOVELY STARS

Big tops and little tops will soon be up, the clowns are putting on the paint the elephants are getting ready for the peanuts, the equestriennes are putting on their silk fleshings, the wild animals are getting wilder, the grooms are putting rosin on the milk white horses, and the small boy can not sleep for Monday, November 26 is show day, the day the Christy Shows, the swaggering aristocrat of the show world, give their great exhibitions, preceded by the gorgeously spectacular parade for the Christy Shows organization is the largest show in the world that still retains the parade feature of show day.

Ingenuity and variety distinguish the show program. There are wonderful trained wild animal acts, upon which primarily the fame of the show was founded, beautiful equestriennes in swagger raiment, aswish with silk and aflame with color, in hazardous feats on the backs of galloping horses make a neffective ornatue to the show arena, and add just the whiff of that Je ne sais quoi that denotes individuality. Wonderful acrobatic groups tumble in the different arenas like a cascade. It is hard to catch the breath in trying to get the details. Numerous aerial stars keep the lofty canvas dome alive with flying forms and there is an army of funmakers, clowns galore, whose sole mission is to entertain with amusing pantomimic stunts that will surprise even the oldest show fan. Miss Jumbo, the oldest performing pachyderm, who is 110 years of age and can say "papa" as plainly as you or I, is one of the features of the show.

The parade will leave the show grounds promptly at noon. Performances are scheduled for two for the afternoon and eight for the night show. Doors will open an hour earlier so that all may pay a leisurely visit to the side show, with its many curious and strange people.

Shipp, manager and believes the season will be one of the largest in history.

Joe Denson of the New Cameron Drug Company is well pleased with the One Cent Sale. In fact so rapidly did the people buy this merchandise that some lines were sold out in short time. The Community Natural Gas Company has brought a great utility to Cameron. Before gas came to town folks did many things by obsolete methods, now the utility of it insures greater efficiency and greater pleasure. Some sections of the city not yet served are anxious to secure mains and gas.

Judd G. Davis says the Reznor and Rayglo gas heaters are very popular in Cameron. The continued advertising campaign of the Milam County Hardware Company is a big boost for a big product. The Detroit-Jewel gas stove has also become a popular utility in Cameron homes.

Good reading, plenty of humor, philosophy and good hard sense in the ads of the Jeter Lumber Company. Mr. Jeter possesses the faculty of getting attention. He writes ads better than most of the professional ad writers. Mr. Jeter is an attractive public speaker and will deliver the annual Armistice Day address in 1929 to ex-service men.

The good qualities of Toncan Iron continue to be advertised in The Herald. Users of that iron in Cameron are also finding it to be much better than anything yet brought to this section. Robert Polansky of Caldwell is the agent for this territory. He has had a number of calls for this iron. The largest single job being the re-roofing of the building occupied by the Cameron Furniture Company.

Hubert Hefley Motor Company has an announcement of interest in this issue about Ford batteries. This battery has been sold here for a number of years by Mr. Hefley and has given the best of satisfaction. Read the announcement in this issue.

Coleman, official ad writer for the firm has an attractive half page announcement quoting prices as low as have ever been quoted in Cameron on quality merchandise. ## MAMIE BLACK

News of the death in Houston of Miss Mamie Black came as a shock to the many Cameron friends of the family last Sunday. The family formerly lived in Cameron. She was a teacher at Harvard School, Houston. Funeral services were held from the residence 1210 Rosalie Street, Monday morning at ten o'clock with interment in Forest Park Cemetery, Houston. Rev. A. Frank Smith, officiating.

Miss Black is survived by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Black of Houston; seven sisters, Mrs. J. J. Powers of Plainview, Mrs. Maurice Priddy of Corpus Christi, Misses Nannie, Betty, Alma, Louise and Nell Black all of Houston; two brothers, Howard Black of San Antonio and Hugh Black of Houston.

Active pallbearers were E. E. Foster, Boyd Collier, B. L. Turner, George Foster, Carroll Atkinson and William Hill. Honorary pallbearers were Herbert Turner, Richard Leigh, C. R. Gaskill, V. H. Williams, J. T. McCants and O. W. Urban.

The death of Miss Black brings sorrow to many hearts in this city. She held a large place in the affections of the people here, her life, having enriched those who knew her. Cameron people recall with affectionate memory her sweet and lovable character and now that she has gone they sit in the shadow of a great bereavement with an emptiness in their hearts for the voice that is stilled, yet keep fresh as flowers that bloom in the springtime the inspiration they found in her life.

ROSE TIME PLEASURES CAMERON AUDIENCE

D. A. R. PRESENTS MUSICAL COMEDY AT YOE HIGH AUDITORIUM

"Rosetime," a three act musical comedy sponsored by the Sarah McCalla Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was presented at the Yoe High auditorium Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. The production was under the exclusive management of Wayne P. Sewell, Atlanta and Miss Uldene Hays, representative of the company, directed.

The cast was as follows:
Pa Perkins, W. R. Hoover.
Ma Perkins, Mrs. Edwin York.
Jerry Hunter, Joe Rowland.
Rose Perkins, Florence Atkinson.
J. Dillingham Jones, Bob Dyer.
Mlle. Jae, Lorene Wade.
Props, O'Reilly, Herbert Freeman.
Babe Burnett, Alice Rylander.
Percy Peabody, Thomas Graves.
Squint Smith, Charles Schaeg.
Julia Jones, Leila Woolley.
Sallie Brown, Tabbie Robinson.
Chorus Girls—Nancy Rae Slocumb, Gladys Davis, Sue Ella Tyson, Cora Barmore, Inez Evans, Velma Newton, Dora Emily Moore, Helen Blaylock, Lois and Ruby Robbins, Laurita Evans, Eulene Slaughter and Arnette Ryan.

Chorus Boys—Cyrus Miller, John Mangum, Gilbert McCollum, Russell Rylander, John Herndon, Harvey Yoe and Robert Love.

Flower Girls—Doris Newton, Lucille McDermott, Shirley Horstmann and Dorothy Perkins.

The story dealt with a young rural maiden who by chance was given an opportunity to join the movies and who accordingly left her country lover and her parents to go to Hollywood. During the three year period in which she succeeded in becoming a star, her lover back home miraculously struck oil on his farm and became a millionaire over night. His first act was to buy out the Hi-Art Film Company with which his former sweetheart had won fame. Upon seeing her, however to his great joy, she not knowing that he was wealthy, revealed to him that she wanted to go back home and leave the movies. And so the play ended with the joyful home coming and a wedding scene in which the chorus girls acted as attendants.

Of the main cast the outstanding performers were Herbert Freeman and Thomas Graves in character parts and Florence Atkinson in straight part. The solos by the latter were effective. The town gossips, Misses Leila Woolley and Tabbie Robinson, really had no definite part in the main plot but formed a clever scene all their own.

The choruses were very good to look at with their colorful costumes. However the musical score seemed too slow and peepless for a musical comedy. In fact the action throughout the entire performance seemed to drag to a certain degree.

Scenery had to be changed between each of the acts and during this time entertainment was furnished by Martha Frances Brogdon, Mary Frances White and Norma Jean McElrath of Temple in readings; Lucille McDermott, Dorothy Perkins and Mary Ellen Cottle in dance numbers; Mildred Clinton, violin; Inez Evans in vocal selections and Mary Ellen Manning playing popular piano music.

Good Advertisements Sells Goods--

Every week this paper goes into the homes of this community where it is carefully read.

Not only the news but the advertisements as well, are read. Not a week should go by that it does not contain at least some sort of message from each business represented in this community.

This does not mean that it is necessary to advertise a special sale or cut prices. It is not. Thousands of advertisers never offer reduced prices or special sales. They merely tell in an interesting way the story of their store and the foods they have to sell, and in so doing create a desire in the mind of the reader, and make of him a new customer.

A well prepared advertisement is nothing more nor less than a well prepared sales talk.

POULTRY SHOW IS ATTRACTING INTEREST

Cotton Palace Records to Be Entered November 9 to 18

This year's poultry show at the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition in Waco, November 9 to 18, inclusive, is attracting more interest than any held in previous years, says John K. Strecker, who is in charge. Considering the fact that last year's show was one of the most notable held in the Southwest anticipations for a first class exhibit this year are justified.

Entries of the American Bantam Association, the Southwestern Bantam Association, the Texas Silver Wyandotte Club, and two which were in the show last year: the Texas Branch of the American Cornish Club and the Texas White Plymouth Rock Club, are announced.

On account of the dates of the Cotton Palace, Nov. 9-18 at the time when poultry is in the best show condition, and the fact that the exhibit will last only 10 instead of 16 days, entries will be greatly increased, Strecker believes. Also, the Cotton Palace poultry show will follow the Dallas and the Shreveport fairs without overlapping their dates as formerly.

Special interest is being shown by local fanciers and breeders of fancy poultry throughout Central Texas and the state. Many of the national specialty clubs, including the National White Wyandotte club, National White Leghorn club, National White Wyandotte club, and others are offering special ribbons for Cotton Palace winners. Judges will be C. P. Van Winkle, editor of Poultry News, Dallas and Victor Burton, superintendent of the poultry department of the Texas State Fair.

George V. Montague of New Madrid, Missouri is the guest of his sister Mrs. P. T. Ramsey.

THE PRAYERS OF PAUL

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:26-28: Rom. 1:8-10; Eph. 1:15-23; 3:14-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Rejoice always; pray without ceasing; in everything give thanks.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Prays for His Friends.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Prays for His Friends.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul as a Man of Prayer.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Place of Prayer in Paul's Life.

His prayer life most really reveals the character of a man. Paul's prayers explained the power and efficiency of his wonderful ministry. The careful study of these prayers will give us strength, guidance and peace as we go about life's duties. The prayer meeting, believers getting together to pray, has characterized the Christian church throughout its history.

I. Paul's Prayer with the Ephesian Elders (Acts 20:36-38).

Having met with these elders and pointed out to them the perils which confronted them and set forth their responsibility, he knelt down and prayed with them before going to Jerusalem, where bonds and afflictions awaited him. They all wept sore and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him, knowing that this was to be the last sight of him. When believers pray and weep together, they will definitely work together.

II. Paul Praying for the Romans (Romans 1:8-10).

1. He thanked God for their world-famed faith (v. 8). The true minister has no greater occasion for gratitude than the knowledge of genuine faith possessed by followers of Christ.

2. He prayed for them continually (v. 9).

Knowing the far-reaching influence of the church at Rome, he unceasingly prayed for them that their influence might be most widely felt.

3. His supreme burden in prayer was for a successful journey to Rome (v. 10).

He desired to visit Rome in order that he might impart some spiritual gift to the believers there and also to receive some spiritual help from them. The true minister receives a reflex blessing from those to whom he ministers.

III. Paul Praying for the Ephesians

1. For knowledge concerning Christ (Eph. 1:15-23).

He besought God that the believers at Ephesus might know (1) The hope of their calling (v. 8). Unfaithfulness on the part of believers is frequently due to their lack of a true understanding of their calling. The right understanding of the Christian's hope will make steadfast the lives of believers. (2) The riches of the glory of God's inheritance in the saints (v. 18). It is marvelous to know that the saint has an inheritance in God, but it is more marvelous that God has an inheritance in the saints. (3) The greatness of Christ's power to usward (vv. 19-23). This mighty power was demonstrated in the resurrection of Christ from the dead. The same power which gave the victory over the grave is available for believers.

2. For strength (Eph. 3:14-21).

This prayer was made to God who is the Father of his great family in heaven and in earth. He prayed that the believers might be strengthened with might in their inner man, with the object of being indwelt by Christ. If Christ is to be entertained, the temple needs the divine strengthening. Where the house is strong enough, Christ will come and abide. Likewise, that they might be rooted and grounded in love (v. 17). This establishment in the love of Christ is needed by all so as to prevent them from being turned aside by every wind of doctrine. Also, that they might comprehend the love of Christ (v. 18). This love is wonderful in its dimensions—in its depth, breadth, width and height, it transcends human understanding—the object being that the believer might be filled unto the fullness of God (v. 19). This does not mean that the believer can hold God, but that he can be so related to God that the infinite resources are at his command.

Immortality

Who does not feel that it would change everything if he believed with his whole soul in his immortality? It would supply him with a totally new standard of values. Many things which the world prizes and pursues he would utterly despise, and many things which the world neglects would be the objects of his most ardent pursuit.—James Stalker.

The Bible

The Bible is the most thought-suggesting book in the world. No other deals with such grand themes.—Herick Johnson.

Makes Us Comforters

God does not comfort us to make us comfortable, but to make us comforters.—J. H. Jowett.

Most Sacred Art

The most sacred art that the soul can engage in is prayer.—A. W. Tozer.

Bartlett, Texas, Nov. 13, 1928

Manager New St. Louis Store,
Cameron, Texas.
Dear Charles

On my recent trip to Cameron I noted that your stock was extremely heavy in several departments. This condition should not be. It is my earnest desire that you REDUCE THESE ITEMS at once. I want you to forget the idea of profits for the next couple weeks and endeavor to get your departments all in line.

You are particularly heavy on SHOES, MEN'S CLOTHING and LADIES READY-TO-WEAR. These are the departments I want you to reduce at once. Commence immediately and reduce prices; how far you go is up to you. What I want is a reduction in stock and I'm leaving it up to you. Give the people of Cameron the lowest prices you've ever had on merchandise. The idea is to sell, sell, SELL.

Put it over big and let me hear from you.

Yours truly,
D. ZWIG.

Texas and Texans'

By Will H. Mayes

Railroad Business Improves

It is encouraging to find that the railroad business in Texas is improving despite the presidential election year and the competition of the busses. The report for the nine months ending October 1st shows a decided increase in revenue over a corresponding period of last year as well as a decided net profit. While a report from the bus and truck lines is not available at this time, it is safe to say that an even greater percentage of gain was made in their business. Where transportation companies are prospering the country is in pretty good shape.

Glad It's Over

For a month before the election most business men in Texas when having anything to say about the presidential election would say, "I will certainly be glad when it is over." It was the most acrimonious National campaign of many years and many unjust charges were made by campaigners on both sides. Neighbors often became embittered. Now that it is over, we will all likely find, unless we are making business of politics, that we have been little effected except from the temporary lull in business that always follows unnecessary agitation and excitement over any public question. If every Texan would only decide to work for Texas and his own community even half as hard as he worked for his party or his candidate during the campaign this State would be a great gainer from the lesson.

News of Public Business

Texas newspapers recently carried a report that the public was denied news of the detailed proceedings of a State board that had under consideration purchases for the state involving $2,000,000. At times it may be wise to hold sessions of purchasing or other boards executive pending the closing of public transactions, but when a board session of any kind, in which the people have an interest because they are paying the bills, has ended its business, every detail of the executive transactions should be made known. Anything short of this destroys confidence in public servants.

Traffic Lights

The announcements that Coleman is to have traffic lights not only shows that Coleman has reached the small city class but also that Coleman is interested in avoiding traffic collisions. Traffic lights may slow down transportation but they prove a wonderful help in lessening accidents. Motorists and pedestrians both should be glad to have them installed at every dangerous street crossing. Most of the towns and this applies even to the small villages, need more signs through them showing the outgoing roads to neighboring places, for it is provoking to stop to inquire about the road out of a town.

Needless Railroad Crossings

The motorist in Texas can hardly make any trip of a hundred miles that is at all parallel with a railroad without having to cross the railroad several times. Often these crossings are wholly unnecessary, as a better roadway could be found on either side of the railroad. In times of slow rail and vehicle transportation, the crossings were not so dangerous as now when all traffic is speeded up. In many cases highway underpasses or overpasses can be built at far less cost than would result from one minor accident, but the peril remains for years. Somebody should have the authority and be required to take active steps to eliminate these unnecessary dangers.

Neglecting Valuable Assets

Texas has a wonderful variety of scenic views, and none of them are capitalized for their value. In a recent drive through three Central Texas counties this writer saw scenery of a kind and variety that is seldom seen in other states—views beautiful beyond description—and yet he has never seen in any paper a picture of the scenery in either of the counties or, as far as he can remember, an attempted description.

Every community should do all that can be done to care for its beauty spots, prevent their despoilation, and call attention to them. To bring this about the local people must first be brought into a keener appreciation of them. Why not make a start by having a number of talks at local civic clubs and articles in the local papers on "the beauty spots" of your community or county? It would be surprising how many would be found.

San Angelo Museum

San Angelo is to have a museum at which will be collected and kept relics, curios, mounted birds and animals and other articles likely to interest this and future generations. The curator, Mrs. W.W. Carson, says there are many valuable private collections in that part of the State that are seldom seen and little known, and her purpose will be to secure as many of these as possible. The State needs and should have a great State museum at Austin in addition to numerous more or less local museums and museum buildings should be fireproof. What is worth collecting is worth preserving.

Uvalde Pecan Show

The increasing importance of pecans as a source of revenue is shown in the Texas Pecan show to be held at Uvalde Nov. 23-24, in the pecan growers institute to be held at Brownwood, November 15-16 and in other meetings where the common interests of those engaged in the pecan industry are discussed. San Saba has even held a 'National Pecan Show' that attracted national interest. One of the matters that greatly concerns the growers now is the bearish market always found for pecans due to the domination of the market by a few large dealers of the North. In many sections growers are pooling their crops but this will not avail a great deal unless the pooling movement becomes general.

Voted In Texas

Edgar B. Davis the Luling oil multimillionaire, came to Texas to vote in the recent election. Since Mr. Davis became enriched by Texas oil, the State in which he formerly lived is unwilling to have him designate Texas as his home and is suing him for an income tax on his oil revenues which he claims should not be paid there since he is not now a citizen of that State. Mr. Davis would have it known that since his discovery of oil in Texas he is a Texas citizen and why shouldn't he be?

Some Radish Crop

The Bishop community has shipped several carloads of radishes but is having trouble getting labor to gather the 200 cars still awaiting the harvesters. Only about a month is required to grow a crop of radishes but they have to be gathered and marketed quickly after they mature.

Miss Gladys Davis has had as her guest the past week Miss June Eva Alexander of Temple. Friday night Miss Gladys entertained with a dance for nine couples and served a buffet luncheon.

Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas Is Hostess to Club

Members of the As You Like It Club met last Wednesday with Mrs. George A. Thomas for an afternoon of sewing and pleasant conversation. In addition to the regular features of the club entertainment, Mrs. Thomas conducted a turkey contest, symbolic of the Thanksgiving season.

Guests in addition to club members were Mrs. H. F. Smith, Sr., and Mrs. S. M. Burns, Sr. The hostess, assisted by Miss Clara Thomas served pressed chicken, fruit salad and hot tea.

Mrs. Lovick Hostess To Builders Class

Mrs. E. B. Lovick was hostess to the Builders Class of the Christian church last Thursday evening in their monthly business meeting and social. The home was a picture of autumnal beauty with its decorations of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Starling, the president of the class, called the meeting to order and the devotional was lead by Mrs. Dow Eplen, after which necessary business was transacted. Then the hostess took charge and assisted by her daughter, Katherine, she directed her guests in games, most of which signified the approaching Thanksgiving season.

At a late hour a salad plate and hot chocolate was charmingly served by the daughters of Mrs. Lovick. There were 24 members of the class present and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Moody.

Autumn Setting For Bridge Club Party

Amid a setting of beautifully tinted autumn leaves, Mrs. George T. Moore entertained members of the Friday Bridge Club last week at her home on East Thirteenth Street. Guests other than club members were Mrs. J. M. Ralston, Mrs. S. A. Cottle and Mrs. Judd Davis.

Score cards were hand painted autumn leaves, the artistic work of Miss Mollie Moore, who assisted also in entertaining and serving.

In the general cut for favors, Mrs. Cottle won high, a corsage and Mrs. Giles Avriett cut low, winning a novelty net handkerchief. The guests were served a salad plate and punch.

WHAT WE THINK

By Frank Dixon

Good manners consist largely in treating the other fellow as though he were as important as he feels.

Those who are in love have an advantage over those who are in trouble—there are more exits to love than there are to trouble.

The old bachelor says he saw a girl step up on the running board of a car and reach way over, and he is certain that if mother had been around there would have been some spanking because there certainly was a beautiful spanking surface. He may have been wrong; you can't tell any more. Maybe it was mother.

Paquin, the stylemaker says the boyish form must go. Thank goodness, mine's going.

This bare legged fad taken up by the girls may have some advantages but it suggests to us a negligee comparable to that exhibited by the man who appears in public with his suspenders down.

Charley Trapp tells of a man who called his wife an angel because: She was always flitting about; continually harping on things, had nothing to wear and was up in the air most of the time.

The girl shows are becoming a thing of the past. The girls of the chorus were hampered by restrictions in the matter of costumes, but the flapper of today has no such worries. The competition is too keen for the chorus.

In the interest of convenience and conservation the government is going to issue smaller dollar bills. The bills may be made smaller, but to a large portion of the population, a dollar bill will continue to look as big as ever.

Do you pay your bills as cheerfully as you sell your merchandise? I know a young lady who collects from merchants each month. She says a certain few of them crab to beat the devil even though they know the bill is correct. Oh Yean get a man's number very quickly by the way he pays a bill.

Did you ever drop your work and sacrifice your time to serve on a finance committee of some kind? And did you ever have some bird who has lots more time than you have, tell you to come back later he has to think it over?

When a committee of your fellow merchants calls on you, regardless of their errand, for heaven's sake treat them courteously. They're not making any commission on the money they collect from you and they're working for your interests as well as their own.

Speaking of committees. I heard a committee chairman make a report the other evening. He said, "We haven't had a meeting yet, so all I can report is progress."

There is no accounting for the notions people have. Old Dobbin snorts for free liquor and he is as dry as the Desert of Sahara. Others preach for a drouth and are as wet as the Mississippi river.

The predilection of the human seems to be inconsistency.

If the farmers were only sure that Al could market their corn by the quart there would be no doubt about the farmers' vote. It's the uncertainty of things in general that keeps the farmer wobbling, but we continue to maintain that the only hope for the farmer is work likl. And as long as he has the right to buy gasoline he ought to be satisfied.

The speak easies of New York are eliminating some of their patrons daily. Give'em time and they alone will settle the wet and dry issue.

Nothing provokes our wife more than to plan a lot of work for Monday and then have nothing at all come up to keep her from doing it.

Some of us make a poor out of weighing public questions because we haven't very good scales.

We lost our buckeye recently and now this week we have been having rheumatism."

Gay are the colors in November But more sober in December.

There are two things you never want to pay any attention to—abuse and flattery. The first can't harm you and the second can't help you.

The piano teacher in our block has sold her radio. She doesn't want passersby to think she is doing those jazz numbers on her piano.

Characteristics of Success

To be able to carry money without spending it.

To be able to bear an injustice without retaliating.

To be able to do one's duty even when one is not watched.

To be able to keep at the job until it is finished.

To be able to make use of criticism without letting it whip you.

Gertie Graves Bride Of Floyd Hargrove

News of the marriage of Miss Gertie Graves and Mr. Floyd Hargrove of Sharpe came as a surprise to the many Cameron friends of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed Sunday afternoon at the Christian parsonage at Rockdale with Mrs. Julian Baskin and Mrs. Dutch Baskin of Cameron, sisters of the groom and Mrs. Graves, mother of the bride and Mrs. Roger Gilleland, sister of the bride and her family of Sharpe the only guests.

The bride was beautifully dressed in blue with accessories of silver grey. For the time being Mr. and Mrs. Hargrove will be at home with her mother at Sharpe.

The marriage of Miss Graves to

Mr. Hargrove unites two old and prominent families of that section of Milam County and the many friends of both are today extending their congratulations and express wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Women— Let Your Husbands Boast!

"NO SIR," said Uncle Bijie, "I won't have one o' them fool telephone contraptions in my house." But Aunt Sarah held out for it and now Uncle Bijie declares that putting in the phone was the smartest thing he ever did.

We tell you it's the women folks that are the progressive members of most families nowadays. We don't know how we'd ever manage to sell Delco-Light plants if it wasn't for them. They keep pestering their men folks for electric light and labor-saving electric power. Then, when they get a Delco-Light plant, the men go 'round boasting about what a wise investment they made. But don't care about that. Get what you want. Then let your husband do the boasting.

Lesson for November 18

PAUL'S EXPERIENCES IN JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:18-23:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Boy Helped His Uncle.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Boy Helped His Uncle.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul Proves His Courage.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Religious Prejudice and Fanaticism.

I. Paul's Vow (21:18-26).

Upon Paul's arrival at Jerusalem representatives of the church there gave him a most cordial reception. In order that the brethren in Jerusalem might graciously receive him, it was proposed to him by the elders that he take a Jewish vow to prove that he was in no way opposed to the law. The effort was to remove prejudice.

II. Paul's Arrest (21:27-40).

How far this act conciliated the Christian Jews we are not told, but it only enraged the unbelieving Jews, causing them to resort to mob law. These maddened Jews on the basis of a supposition seized Paul, dragged him from the temple and beat him mercilessly, intending to put him to death. Paul was rescued from the mob by the Roman guard. The chief captain, not being able to get any information from the howling mob, bound Paul and started for the castle. In order to protect him, the soldiers lifted him upon their shoulders and bore him up the stairs.

III. Paul's Defense (22:1-27).

Paul's chief concern was not his own safety. He used this last opportunity of witnessing for Christ.

1. His just claim for a hearing (vv. 1-3).

(1) His birth (v. 3). He was Jewish-born in Tarsus, a city of no mean reputation.

(2) His education (v. 3). He was educated in a school under the tutelage of Gamaliel and instructed "according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers."

(3) His zeal (v. 3). He was as zealous toward God as those Jews who were trying to destroy him.

2. His former attitude toward Jesus (vv. 4, 5).

"I persecuted this way unto the death," so that his attitude was one of hatred as was that of the Jews.

3. How his attitude was changed (vv. 6-16).

This change of attitude was brought about by the intervention of God. While on his way to Damascus with authority to bring the Christians to Jerusalem to be punished, Paul was smitten to the ground by a light from heaven, and the voice of the Lord said, "Why persecutest thou Me?"

When Paul inquired as to what he was to do, he was told to go into Damascus where he would be told what to do. Ananias was sent by the Lord to make known His will.

4. The Lord commissioned him to go to the Gentiles (vv. 17-21).

It was not of his own will that he preached to the Gentiles, but by the Lord's direct commission.

IV. Paul Before the Sanhedrin (23:1-10).

The Roman officer, in order to learn why Paul was arrested, commanded the chief council to assemble, and brought Paul before them.

1. Paul's earnest look at the council (vv. 1, 2).

This was a solicitation of their honor to give him a fair hearing, and also a look of conscious integrity and unflinching courage.

2. Paul's stern rebuke of the head of the council (v. 3).

"God shall smite thee, thou whited wall." This was a just sentence, no doubt directed by the Lord. Paul showed that he had the highest respect for the office, but the man then occupying it was not worthy of it.

3. Paul's appeal to the Pharisees (vv. 6-10).

Seeing that he could not get a fair hearing, and perceiving that the body before him was made up of Pharisees and Sadducees, he appealed to the Pharisees for his preaching and something in common with their belief.

V. The Lord Stood by Paul (v. 11).

He was in great need of grace to sustain him. He may have begun to question the wisdom of his going to Jerusalem, but this assured him that his course was right, and thus comfort was brought to him.

VI. The Conspiracy to Kill Paul (vv. 18-22).

More than forty men banded together for the purpose of getting Paul out of the way. This plot was known to Paul's sister's son (v. 16), who reported it, and thus doubtless saved the apostle's life.

JUDGE RALSTON MAY BE DOLLAR A YEAR MAN

Ruling Of Court On Fee System Offers Problem As To Source From Which Judges Will Receive Pay

The late war brought us many Dollar a Year Men who served with distinction, some of them elected to the vice presidency and to the presidency.

Cameron may have a Dollar a Year Man also. He is Judge J. M. Ralston who has been elected Justice of the Peace. The recent ruling of the Court of Criminal Appeals that Justices of Peace cannot receive fees in cases before their courts because of a constitutional inhibition, presents a real problem for Texas. Just how a Justice of Peace will receive his pay has not yet been devised.

There seems to be little question of the application of this ruling also to judges of corporation courts.

The Texas fee system of paying justices of the peace from fines and costs they collect was declared unconstitutional Wednesday by the Court of Criminal Appeals because the justices have a direct personal and pecuniary interest in convictions.

The ruling is in line with one by the United States Supreme Court which knocked out the municipal fee system in Ohio. Under the decision Wednesday A. R. Keller of Nueces County is ordered released from sheriff's custody where he has been because of failure to pay a $1 fine and costs in Justice of the Peace B. G. Moffett's court at Corpus Christi.

from the proceeds of fine costs was held to be in contravention of both the State and Federal Constitutions.

Because of the hundreds of justices in Texas who have been paid for many years through fees, the decision will have far-reaching effect, and may involve the rights of other county officers to be paid through fees, if they have an interest in conviction.

Citing the passage from the State Constitution which says "no judge shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested," the court decided that the Corpus Christi cases presented the "question pointedly as to whether or not a justice of the peace in Texas who receives fees if a judgment of conviction is entered but none otherwise is disqualified."

Also the federal constitution provision of depriving a defendant of "due process of law" by being subjected to a judgment depriving him of his liberty by a judicial officer who receives remuneration for his services only if a judgment of conviction is entered, was considered, the court said.

Liberty Held Menaced

On this point the opinion declared "it appears that the liberty of our citizens is subjected to the judgment of a court who is paid only if they are found guilty, who may take the place of the public prosecutor in the development of the evidence, who is inhibited from righting over one miscarriage of justice in his court, and whose judgments are not subjected to review by this court unless the fine imposed in the county court upon appeal exceeds $100," adding that "while the statute allows a jury trial, it places in the power of the justice of the peace the right to control the introduction of evidence including the right to rule on the relevancy of and materiality of questions propounded by himself."

The court commented that "these several matters furnish the background of a situation so clearly at variance with constitutional guarantee given the accused that it is remarkable chiefly because it has remained unchallenged for so many decades."

Free Men's Rights

Holding that under the Constitution the county court has co-ordinate jurisdiction in the justice courts in the trial of all penal offenses, wherein same may now be tried without "any necessary breakdown in the administration of our criminal laws, the court declared that the trivial nature of the punishment inflicted in justice court can not affect the question.

"Our State constitution guarantees all 'free men have equal rights' so that offender great and small against the law must stand equal before sovereignty and be measured by the same rules."

From Canal Boat to White House

IN 1864 a boy of 16 trudged along a tow-path, the driver of a canal boat. It was his first job after leaving his log cabin home, dissatisfied with the limitations of frontier farm life. Then followed a four-year struggle with poverty and an earnest effort to secure an education, working as farmer, carpenter and teacher while pursuing his studies.

His perseverance carried him through college and finally, in 1880, he was rewarded with the highest honor his country could bestow. James A. Garfield, born November 19th, 1831, was elected President of the United States.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CAMERON HERALD

27 Years Ago

Messrs. Willie Lee Hause, Perry Wilkerson, Ed Newton and Holman Betay drove out to Ben Arnold last night to a house party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ford. There were present besides the above Misses Mattie Ford, Lula Chambers, Gussie Caldwell and Florence Langford who were guests at the house and John Ford and Miss Pearl Todd from Burlington. Refreshments were served during the evening and several hours were pleasantly spent.

A most pleasant affair took place last Saturday night at the home of Fire Chief John T. Arnold. It was the 52nd anniversary of the chief's birthday and he had invited the members of the fire department to help him celebrate the day in the enjoyment of a big supper.

At about eight o'clock the mayor and members of the fire department had arrived and were ushered into the dining room where an elegant feast was spread for them. All the good things imaginable for the inner man were there on the table for their enjoyment and none failed to do full justice to his share of the delicious feast. The charming Misses Mattie Arnold and Annie McLane watched closely after the wants of each guest assisting Mrs. Arnold, the chief's wife in seeing that not one was neglected.

After supper Mayor Ralston, on behalf of the Cameron Fire Department presented chief Arnold with a handsome mahogany cane with a large fine gold head. On the gold plate on the cane was the following inscription: "Presented to Chief John T. Arnold by the C. F. D. 52nd birthday, November 9, 1901."

After Chief Arnold's words of thanks the fire boys climbed into the hose wagon and with the Tribune Reporter, Matt Bailey in the middle as "chaperone" and Mayor Ralston on the seat by the driver they drove over several of the streets practicing the horses.

Mrs. P. E. Cheeves and Mrs. Johnson of Temple and Mrs. Stewart of Durango are visiting Mrs. S. W. Cheeves in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carothers and their daughter, Mrs. Maria Carothers De Trevino of Saltillo, Mexico are visiting T. C. Stafford's family.

Rev. C. H. Dodge came down from Waco this morning and is the guest of Hon. and Mrs. Monta Moore. Rev. Dodge is well known to the people of Cameron, who will be glad to meet him while here.

Burns Beaver is building a new two story residence near the city park and Jeff Rogers is improving a new home in the eastern suburbs of town.

There are, unquestionably, Methodist Christians, Baptist Christians, Presbyterian Christians and Catholic Christians. What we deplore is the use of a name that distinguishes one group of Christians from another. We call ourselves Christians and Christians only, not to differentiate ourselves from others, but to identify ourselves with them. Narrow sectarianism does not suggest the name. We do not claim to be the only Christians but Christians only. Wear the name if you will. Exalt it above every name. Put no other name first. "There is no other name under heaven whereby we may be saved." The day will come when we will have a common name and a common faith. "One Lord, one faith, one baptism." Differences will be forgotten. We will be one and the prayer of Christ will be answered.

OVERTAKE IT

Have an aim—Do it yourself, but let us coach you. The old adage "Success comes to those who wait" is not true in these days. We should say "Success comes to those who prepare while they wait." The fact is, success never comes, it is always going, you must overtake it. The only way in the world to overtake it is to prepare.

Anyone of the ten popular courses of the Byrne Commercial College will prepare you. It doesn't take long to complete them and you are ready for our Employment Department to place you then you are on the road to future accomplishment and independence.

There is no other school in the country that can give you the complete thorough training you get here. We reserve the exclusive use of the Famous Byrne Shorthand and Bookkeeping in Texas for our three Byrne Colleges. Our president, H. E. Byrne, the author of these systems, has graduated more young people into good positions and placed them on the road to success than any other educator in the Southwest. For more than twenty years he has studied the requirements of the young people and the links in the chain that connect them with business, professional and social life. This connecting chain is composed of a series of business subjects, some of which it is absolutely necessary for every young man or woman to have. Without them they are not prepared to overtake success. By careful study of such requirements he has shortened the time of preparation by just one-half.

Listen, young friend—would you think of taking a course in a school requiring six or eight months if you could get a better one in three or four—certainly not. Then investigate—let us satisfy you and prove to you that we can do all we claim and more. It costs nothing to investigate and your course here will cost you nothing if we fail to do what we claim. What fairer proposition can you ask? Fill and mail in for free catalogue. Byrne Commercial College, Dallas, Houston or San Antonio.

OFFERINGS IN SEASONABLE WINTER DRY GOODS

We are following up our advertisement for last month. The election is over now and we all must "hit the ball" and go to work. We are asking you to come here to see "Better clothes and other outfitting that will cost you no more than the ordinary things to wear." If we were to quote you figures on every line we sell they would not startle you for figures all sound alike and everybody quotes them. It's by offering you better values at any stated price and giving you better all around clothes service that you can obtain elsewhere that we hope to win and hold your trade. We can prove our claims in only one way—showing you. Won't you come and see?
